Samia Errazzouki

Lecturer, African and African American Studies

Samia Errazzouki is a historian of early Northwest Africa. Her research and teaching are centered around an African view of world history, with a focus on the themes of racial capitalism, slavery, empire, and early modernity. Her current project examines Sa'dian Morocco's sugar industry within the context of the Atlantic world. She holds a PhD in history from the University of California, Davis and an MA in Arab Studies from Georgetown University. Samia is also a former Morocco-based journalist, where she reported for the Associated Press, and later, with Reuters.
