Architect and Project Leader with 10+ years of experience in high-impact real estate projects. Founder and Director of ADR, an architecture and design strategy studio leveraging BIM and Virtual Design & Construction (VDC) to align design, execution, and business value. Background in sustainable design, multidisciplinary leadership and academic teaching.

I hold a Master’s degree in Advanced Sustainable Design from the University of Edinburgh (UK) with LEED Green Associate certification. My professional interests lie at the intersection of design strategy, sustainability, and leadership.
