Stanford

Arezoo Islami

Visiting Scholar, Philosophy

Bio

BIO

Arezoo completed her PhD in philosophy at Stanford University. Her main area of current research interest is in philosophy of mathematics and philosophy of physics. Her dissertation focused on the question of why mathematics is applicable in modern theoretical physics. She is interested in integrating her mathematics undergraduate education with her graduate research in philosophy.