

Stanford

Chad Anderson

Clinical Assistant Professor, Medicine - Primary Care and Population Health

Bio

BIO

Chad Anderson is a Physician Assistant at Stanford ValleyCare and a Clinical Assistant Professor with the Stanford School of Medicine MSPA program. He is the Assistant Director of PA education at ValleyCare. He is dual credentialed as a Family Nurse Practitioner and a Physician Assistant. He completed his FNP/PA training at the Stanford School of Medicine and his graduate studies at A.T. Still University – Arizona School of Health Sciences. He is passionate about improving our patients hospital experience as well as educating our future providers.

ACADEMIC APPOINTMENTS

- Clinical Assistant Professor, Medicine - Primary Care and Population Health

Teaching

COURSES

2025-26

- Principles of Clinical Medicine I: PAS 212 (Win)

2024-25

- Principles of Clinical Medicine I: PAS 212 (Win)

2023-24

- Principles of Clinical Medicine I: PAS 212 (Win)

2022-23

- Principles of Clinical Medicine I: PAS 212 (Win)