Yanal Ramzi Qushair
Masters Student in Computer Science, admitted Autumn 2018

Bio

Hi! My name is Yanal. I'm a senior and coterm student from Amman, Jordan. I am currently pursuing my B.S. in Symbolic Systems: Neurosciences and my M.S. in Computer Science: Artificial Intelligence. My primary fascination is with the human mind and brain, and how we can use the power of computation to unlock their secrets. Industry experience includes data science and natural language processing in both Arabic and English. I previously worked as a research assistant under Dr. Brian Knutson as part of the NeuroChoice Initiative, and am the Drum Major of the Leland Stanford Junior University Marching Band.
