BIO

Dr. Thomas J. Wilson was born in Omaha, Nebraska. He attended the University of Nebraska College of Medicine, earning his MD with highest distinction. While a medical student, he was awarded a Howard Hughes Medical Institute Research Training Fellowship and spent a year in the lab of Dr. Rakesh Singh at the University of Nebraska. He was also elected to the prestigious Alpha Omega Alpha Honor Medical Society. He completed his residency training in neurological surgery at the University of Michigan and was mentored by Dr. Lynda Yang and Dr. John McGillicuddy in peripheral nerve surgery. Following his residency, he completed a fellowship in peripheral nerve surgery at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota, working with Dr. Robert Spinner. He is now Clinical Associate Professor and Co-Director of the Center for Peripheral Nerve Surgery at Stanford University. He also holds a Master of Public Health (MPH) degree from the Bloomberg School of Public Health at Johns Hopkins University, with focused certificates in Clinical Trials and Health Finance and Management. His research interests include peripheral nerve outcomes research, clinical trials advancing options for patients with peripheral nerve pathologies and spinal cord injuries, and translational research focused on improved imaging techniques to assist in diagnosing nerve pain and other peripheral nerve conditions. His clinical practice encompasses the treatment of all peripheral nerve pathologies, including entrapment neuropathies, nerve tumors, nerve injuries (including brachial plexus injuries, upper and lower extremity nerve injuries), and nerve pain. Dr. Wilson enjoys working in multi-disciplinary teams to solve complex problems of the peripheral nervous system. His wife, Dr. Monique Wilson, is a practicing dermatologist in the Bay Area.

CLINICAL FOCUS

- Neurosurgery
- Peripheral Nerve Surgery

ACADEMIC APPOINTMENTS

- Clinical Professor, Neurosurgery
- Clinical Professor (By courtesy), Adult Neurology
- Member, Wu Tsai Neurosciences Institute

ADMINISTRATIVE APPOINTMENTS

- Co-Director, Center for Peripheral Nerve Surgery, (2017- present)
- Associate Residency Program Director, Department of Neurosurgery, (2024- present)

HONORS AND AWARDS

- Kline Peripheral Nerve Award, AANS/CNS Section on Disorders of the Spine and Peripheral Nerves (2017)
- Chandler Clinical Research Award, University of Michigan Medical School (2016)
- McGillicuddy Leadership Award, University of Michigan Medical School (2016)
- Crosby Basic Science Research Award, University of Michigan Medical School (2014)
- Senior Thesis Award, Alpha Omega Alpha (2009)
- Research Training Fellowship, Howard Hughes Medical Institute (2006)

PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION

- Board Certification: Neurosurgery, American Board of Neurological Surgery (2021)
- MPH, Johns Hopkins University , Clinical Trials, Health Care Finance and Management (2020)
- Fellowship, Mayo Clinic , Peripheral Nerve Surgery (2017)
- Residency, University of Michigan , Neurological Surgery (2016)
- M.D., University of Nebraska College of Medicine , Medicine (2009)
- Research Training Fellowship, Howard Hughes Medical Institute , Research Fellowship (2007)
- B.S., Creighton University , Biology (2004)
