Bio

BIO

Primary interests: organization behavior, governance, and sustainable development. My research focuses on international environmental aid and the performance of developing country government agencies tasked with addressing environmental issues.

I hold an MPhil in Development Studies from Oxford University and BA in Environmental Studies from Amherst College.