Hélène Chokron Garneau is a Senior Research Scientist at the Center for Dissemination and Implementation (CDI), Stanford University School of Medicine, and serves as Co-Director of the Center for Dissemination & Implementation Science At Stanford (C-DIAS), a National Institute of Drug Abuse (NIDA) Center of Excellence.

Her work focuses on bridging the research to practice gap for evidence based practices in the fields of addiction, mental health services, and primary care, with the ultimate goal of making evidenced based practices accessible to all.

Prior to joining Stanford School of Medicine in 2019, Dr. Chokron Garneau worked at the UCLA Integrated Substance Abuse Programs (ISAP) where she assisted in the development, implementation, and evaluation of behavioral interventions for substance users with comorbid psychiatric diagnoses.

Dr. Chokron Garneau obtained her undergraduate degree in Psychology from McGill University and both her PhD and MPH in Public Health from UCLA.

ACADEMIC APPOINTMENTS

- Sr Res Scholar, Psych/Public Mental Health & Population Sciences

PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION

- PhD, University of California Los Angeles , Public Health (2018)
- MPH, University of California Los Angeles , Public Health (2010)
- BA, McGill University , Psychology (2007)
