

Caroline Meinhardt

Policy Research Manager, Institute for Human-Centered Artificial Intelligence (HAI)

Bio

BIO

Caroline Meinhardt is a policy research manager at the Stanford Institute for Human-Centered Artificial Intelligence (HAI), where she manages the institute's policy research initiatives. Her research focuses on the implementation challenges of AI regulation, the governance of large-scale AI models, healthcare AI policy, and global AI governance approaches. Prior to joining HAI, she worked as a China-focused consultant and analyst, delivering in-depth research and strategic advice regarding China's development and regulation of emerging technologies, including AI. She holds a Master's in International Policy from Stanford University and a Bachelor's in Chinese Studies from the University of Cambridge.