

Jessica Whalen, MS

Program Director, Peds/Child Health Research Program

Bio

BIO

Jessica Whalen, MS, currently serves as the Program Director for PEDSnet and the Data Manager for the SAMBA Lab. Previously, she worked as a project manager within the Value Improvement Program at Stanford Medicine Children's Health and developed an implementation science toolkit to help coach teams through their projects. She is also an affiliate of the Stanford Medicine Center for Improvement (SMCI) and Stanford University Network for Dissemination & Implementation Research (SUNDIR).

CURRENT ROLE AT STANFORD

Program Director (PEDSnet) & Data Manager (Stanford Assessments of Bone Across the ages (SAMBA Center))

EDUCATION AND CERTIFICATIONS

- Master of Science, Santa Clara University , Business Analytics (2020)
- Bachelor of Science, Santa Clara University , Mathematics & Spanish (minor) (2008)

LINKS

- PEDSnet: <https://med.stanford.edu/mchri/crso/pedsnet.html?tab=proxy>
- SAMBA Lab: <https://med.stanford.edu/samba-lab.html?tab=proxy>