

Leslie Huang

Sr. Industrial Contracts Officer, Office of Technology Licensing (OTL)

Bio

BIO

Leslie is an Industrial Contracts Officer in Stanford's Office of Technology Licensing.

Prior to joining Stanford, Leslie was a process engineer at Applied Materials and an in-house attorney at various Bay Area technology companies focusing on intellectual property and commercial transactions. She earned a B.A. in History and a B.S. in Materials Science Engineering with an Electronic Materials Specialization from UCLA and a J.D. with a High Tech Law Certificate (Intellectual Property Specialization) from Santa Clara University School of Law. She is admitted to practice law in the State of California.