Stanford

Elana Trubowitch Cohn

Clinical Assistant Professor, Medicine - Primary Care and Population Health

CLINICAL OFFICE (PRIMARY)

- Stanford Family Medicine

  211 Quarry Rd Ste 405

  MC 5985

  Palo Alto, CA 94304

  Tel (650) 498-9000 Fax (650) 498-7750

Bio

BIO

Dr. Elana Cohn (She/Her) is a board-certified Family Physician, with a love for caring for the whole person and the entire family.

She completed her bachelor's degree in Neuroscience and Behavior at Barnard College, after which she worked as a Health Outreach coordinator on a mobile medical van providing care to the homeless population in NY, which sparked her love for primary care. She received her medical degree at Tel aviv University, and completed her residency at Mount Sinai and the Institute for Family Health.

Her practice spans care for all ages, with an emphasis on care for marginalized populations, reproductive health, office based-procedures, and teaching. She is passionate about integrating mental health care and reproductive justice into general practice, and making care for her patients as comprehensive as possible.

Outside of the office, she loves to travel and explore new places, dance her heart out, and spend time with her family.

CLINICAL FOCUS

- Family Medicine

ACADEMIC APPOINTMENTS

- Clinical Assistant Professor, Medicine - Primary Care and Population Health

PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION

- Undergraduate Education, Barnard College (2014)
- Medical Education: Tel Aviv University Israel
- Residency: Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai Program NY
- Board Certification: Family Medicine, American Board of Family Medicine (2022)