BIO

Rishabh is an MBA Candidate at the Stanford Graduate School of Business.

Rishabh was trained as a Materials Engineer at IIT Roorkee in India. Before joining Stanford, he was a product manager at Bain and Company, building scalable AI powered software platforms.

At GSB, Rishabh focuses on space technology, having spent a summer at Aadyah Space where he led their USA go-to-market strategy. His long term ambition is to specialise in microgravity manufacturing, turning in-orbit production from concept to commercial reality.

Outside work, he enjoys flying planes as a private pilot and caring for his thriving collection of indoor plants.
