Stanford

Kaiwen Bian

Life Science Research Professional 1, Ophthalmology Research/Clinical Trials

Bio

BIO

Kaiwen Bian is a researcher at Stanford University's Enigma Project, working on representation learning, world modeling, and computational neuroscience. His research explores how natural and artificial intelligence develop representations of the world to support understanding, generalization, and autonomous discovery.