Stanford

Siddharth Gundapaneni

Research Analyst for State and Local Government Initiative, Fellow Support Group

Bio

BIO

Research interests include monetary theory, self-insurance, and mechanism design, but I am liable to stray in other directions. You can find details of my research and background on my personal webpage above.

Stanford courses:

Machine Learning (CS 229, Tengyu Ma and Chris Re, PhD level), Spring '26

Dynamic Asset Pricing Theory (FIN 622, Darrell Duffie, PhD level), Winter '26

Theory of Probability (MATH 230, Sourav Chaterjee, PhD level), Autumn '25

CURRENT ROLE AT STANFORD

Research Analyst at The Hoover Institution's State and Local Governance Initiative

EDUCATION AND CERTIFICATIONS

- B.S., Binghamton University , Economic Analysis (honors) (2025)
- B.A., Binghamton University , Mathematical Sciences (2025)

Professional

WORK EXPERIENCE

- Research Assistant - QuantEcon (May 15, 2024 - September 1, 2025)
- Economic Advisor - PraSaga (July 1, 2023 - January 15, 2025)