

David Gögl

Graduate Visiting Researcher Student, Energy Science and Engineering

Bio

BIO

David Gögl is a Visiting Student Researcher in the STEER group at Stanford University, where he works under the supervision of Julia Frohmann and Sally Benson.

His background is in energy system optimization, open-source energy system modeling, and the dynamics of European power markets.

David obtained his bachelor's and master's degree in Mechanical Engineering at ETH Zürich, Switzerland.

EDUCATION AND CERTIFICATIONS

- Bachelor of Science - B.Sc., ETH Zürich , Mechanical Engineering (2023)