BIO

Zhefu Li is an undergraduate student at the School of Life Sciences at Tsinghua University and interned at Guolan Lu's lab at Stanford during the summer of 2026. He is broadly interested in computational biology, including systems biology, spatial omics, biophysics, mathematical modeling, and computational neuroscience. Besides that, he's also a fan of botany and zoology, enjoys birdwatching, observing insects and flowers, and loves ecological surveys.
