

Daniel Riechman

Visiting Associate Professor, Computer Science

Bio

BIO

Daniel Reichman is an Associate Professor at the Computer Science Department at WPI and a Visiting Associate Professor at Stanford University (Computer Science) for the 2026-27 academic year. Reichman is interested in theoretical study of neural architectures as well the use of AI for mathematical and scientific discovery. Prior to WPI he received his PhD at the Weizmann Institute and was a postdoctoral scholar at Cornell, Berkeley and Princeton.