I obtained my BA in History of Science and Medicine at Yale and later decided to complete post-baccalaureate training to obtain my pre-requisites for medical school at Bryn Mawr. I obtained my MD at Mount Sinai, just 10 blocks from where I grew up in New York City and completed my residency training at Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center in Boston. I have now moved over 3000 miles from home to work as an academic hospitalist at Stanford where I hope to focus on medical education/training for the residency.
