BIO

Dr. Janine Yunfan Yang is a hospitalist at Stanford Health Care in the Division of Hospital Medicine. She grew up in China, Canada and California before matriculating into Drexel University's seven year combined BS/MD program and completed her medical education at Drexel University College of Medicine in 2023. After moving across the country back to the west coast to be closer to family, she completed her internal medicine residency at Kaiser Permanente Santa Clara in 2026. Shortly thereafter, Janine joined Stanford with a passion for hospital medicine, with particular interests in cardiovascular medicine, point of care ultrasound, and medical education. Outside of work she enjoys traveling, baking, and spending time with her husband and cat.
