

Aamir Sohail

Graduate Visiting Researcher Student, Psychology

Bio

BIO

I am a PhD student in Psychology based at the Centre for Human Brain Health (CHBH), University of Birmingham, and a Visiting Student Researcher at the Departments of Psychology and Sociology at Stanford University.

My research interests involve using experimental tasks and computational modeling to understand social decision-making in humans and AI. I am also more broadly interested in the impact of AI on society, and towards how science is conducted.

Research & Scholarship

LAB AFFILIATIONS

- Russell Poldrack, Poldrack Lab (9/1/2026 - - 10/31/2026)
- Robb Willer, The Politics and Social Change Lab (PaSCL) (9/1/2026 - - 10/31/2026)