BIO

Dr. Sreekantaswamy recently completed her dermatology residency at the University of Utah. She is passionate about caring for older adults and spent a year of her medical training serving as the inaugural Geriatric Dermatology Research Fellow under Dr. Daniel Butler at UCSF. During residency, Shreya also served as the Resident Representative for the Pacific Dermatology Association and sat on the AAD Resident and Fellow Committee - two organizations in which she continues to hold leadership roles as an attending. A Bay Area native, Shreya is thrilled to return home to serve her local community. Outside of medicine, she is an avid foodie with a soft spot for local bakeries and dessert shops, a collector of antique art and rare medical books, and an enthusiastic explorer of global cultures through music and media.
