

Stanford

Erik Kolderup

Adjunct Lecturer, Civil and Environmental Engineering

Bio

BIO

Erik Kolderup is a consulting engineer focusing on building energy efficiency. He served as Vice President of Eley Associates and Associate Principal at Architectural Energy Corporation in San Francisco, before starting Kolderup Consulting in 2007. He holds degrees in electrical engineering (BS 1985, MS 1986) and industrial engineering (MS 1990) from Stanford and is an ASHRAE-certified Building Energy Modeling Professional.

Please see also www.kolderupconsulting.com.