BIO

I've worked in libraries for over 38 years and my interests lie in children's and young adult literature and I love to chat about books in that area. I also like to promote Cubberley's historical collections including textbooks and government documents.

CURRENT ROLE AT STANFORD

As the operations manager I manage circulation and course reserves for Cubberley Education Library as well as assist students, faculty and staff with information questions. I also select children’s and young adult literature for Cubberley Education library.
