I am a zooarchaeologist, whose focus is primarily on colonisation and colonialism. My zooarchaeological research has used butchery analysis (with the benefit of professional and ethnographic actualistic experience) to investigate agency within the human-animal relationship. More recently, I have employed geometric morphometrics (GMM) as a mechanism for identifying and distinguishing animal populations. This approach to studying colonial activity centres on understanding how people manipulate animal bodies, both during life and after death.

Alongside the strictly faunal research is a research interest in technologies associated with animal processing. This has been used to investigate issues of technology, trade and socio-economic attitudes within colonial contexts in the Mediterranean (Venice & Montenegro) and the Baltic (Poland, Latvia & Lithuania).

I am also the Director of the 'Mauritian Archaeology and Cultural Heritage' (MACH) project, which studies European Imperialism and colonial activity. This project centres on the movement of peoples and material cultures, specifically within the contexts of slavery and Diaspora. The work of this project has focused on key sites in Mauritius and is based on a systematic programme of excavation and environmental sampling. The underlying aims are to better understand the transition from slavery to indentured labour following abolition, the extent and diversity of trade in the region and the environmental consequences of intense, monoculture, agriculture.

ACADEMIC APPOINTMENTS

- Associate Professor, Environmental Social Sciences
- Associate Professor, Oceans
- Senior Fellow, Stanford Woods Institute for the Environment
- Associate Professor, Anthropology
- Faculty Affiliate, Institute for Human-Centered Artificial Intelligence (HAI)
- Affiliate, Stanford Woods Institute for the Environment

ADMINISTRATIVE APPOINTMENTS

- Assistant Professor of Anthropology, Stanford University, (2012- present)
- Lecturer in Archaeology, University of Central Lancashire, (2010-2012)
- ERC Research Fellow, Reading University, (2011-2014)
- Associate Fellow, McDonald Institute, (2010-2014)

- Scientific Fellow, Scientific Research Centre, Slovenia, (2010-2011)
- External Consultant, Truth & Justice Commission, Mauritius., (2009-2011)
- Leverhulme Research Associate, McDonald Institute, (2007-2010)

HONORS AND AWARDS

- English Heritage Award for Presenting Heritage Research., BA Festival Of Science (2003)
- Highly Commended for The Foundation Essay, Fitzwilliam College, Cambridge (2003)

BOARDS, ADVISORY COMMITTEES, PROFESSIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

- Affiliate, Stanford Center for Human and Planetary Health (2025 - present)
- Member, Society of Antiquaries of London
- Member, Society for Post Medieval Archaeology (SPMA)
- Member, European Association of Archaeologists (EAA)
- Member, International Council for Archaeozoology (ICAZ)
- Member, The Society for the Promotion of Roman Studies
- Member, The Society for Medieval Archaeology
- Member, Cambridge Philosophical Society (CPS)
- Member, Stanford Archaeology Center, Stanford
- Member, Center for South Asia, Stanford
- Member, The Europe Center, Stanford
- Member, Woods Institute for the Environment, Stanford
- Member, Center for African Studies, Stanford
- Member, Center for Medieval and Early Modern Studies, Stanford

PROGRAM AFFILIATIONS

- Center for Comparative Studies in Race and Ethnicity (CCSRE)

PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION

- B.Sc., University of Surrey , Biological Sciences (1996)
- M.Sc., University of Surrey , Ecology for Sustainable Development (1998)
- M.Sc., Bournemouth University , Osteoarchaeology (2002)
- Ph.D, University of Cambridge , Archaelogy (2007)
