Stanford

Kiera Davis

Casual Employee, Med/Stanford Center for Clinical Research

Bio

BIO

Kiera Davis is the Clinical Associate Director for Education and Training with the Stanford Center for Clinical Research (SCCR) at Stanford University. Kiera has been working with SCCR since 2015 and has a passion for improving research training across the School of Medicine. Kiera received her Bachelor of Arts in History from Boston University in 2006 and worked as a Clinical Research Coordinator at the Duke Clinical Research Institute before pursing her Bachelor of Arts in Nursing, which she completed from Duke University in 2010. Kiera worked as a pediatric cardiac intensive care nurse for over four years before returning to clinical research and joining Stanford. She completed her Master of Science in Clinical Research from Campbell University in 2022.

CURRENT ROLE AT STANFORD

Clinical Associate Director, Education & Training

Program Lead, SHC Tri-Valley Program Management Office (PMO)

INSTITUTE AFFILIATIONS

- Member (Staff), Cardiovascular Institute