Stanford

David Kaval

Lecturer, Graduate School of Business - Academic Administration

Bio

BIO

David Kaval is a lecturer at the Stanford Graduate School of Business and a sports executive with experience leading professional franchises and developing sports venues. He previously served as president of the Oakland Athletics and the San Jose Earthquakes, where he led the development of PayPal Park. His teaching explores the business of sports, including leadership, stakeholder management, sports investing, and stadium development. He also serves on the board of ColiseumAI and is a co-founder of the Golden Research Institute (www.goldenresearchinstitute.com), a nonprofit focused on improving quality of life in California.