Katherine Burke
Deputy Director, Stanford Global Health, Primary Care and Population Health

Bio

CURRENT ROLE AT STANFORD
Deputy Director of the Center for Innovation in Global Health
CIGH is based in the medical school but works across the university, building a global health network, seeding research, and encouraging global health education and service.

EDUCATION AND CERTIFICATIONS
- BA, Harvard University, Social Studies (1980)
- MM, Kellogg Graduate School of Management, Northwestern University, Finance and Management (1988)
- MSc, University of California, San Francisco, Global Health Sciences (2011)