Bio

I'm a Ph.D. student in the Department of Management Science & Engineering at Stanford University. My research interests include predictive analytics, causal inference, and machine learning. I'm interested in developing artificial intelligence tools for social and healthcare problems.

Website: https://web.stanford.edu/~jiaming/

Publications
