Irene Jun, MD, is a Clinical Assistant Professor of Pediatrics in the Division of Neonatal and Developmental Medicine at Stanford University School of Medicine and a neonatal hospitalist at Lucile Packard Children's Hospital Stanford. Her academic work focuses on newborn care, neonatal resuscitation, and medical education.

Dr. Jun serves as Associate Rotation Director for the Packard Intermediate Care Nursery, a core Stanford pediatric residency rotation that she has helped lead since 2012. She has developed an extensive curriculum of bedside, simulation-based, digital, and point-of-care educational resources to support pediatric trainees in newborn medicine.

Her scholarly interests include delivery room education, neonatal resuscitation, simulation, and innovative approaches to point-of-care learning.
