

Stanford

Vandana Boparai, MD

Clinical Assistant Professor (Affiliated), Primary Care and Population Health

CLINICAL OFFICE (PRIMARY)

- Stanford Medicine Partners

5568 Gibraltar Dr

Pleasanton, CA 94588

Tel (925) 534-6500 Fax (925) 534-6701

Professional Overview

BIO

Dr. Vandana Boparai is board certified in Internal Medicine. Her interest in clinical research is one of the reasons she joined medicine. She has been involved in many gastrointestinal research projects in affiliation with Stanford University. Her professional interests include healthcare maintenance, preventative medicine and women's health, hypertension, acid reflux and diabetes management.

In her free time, she loves spending time with her kids. They love to swim together, and when time allows they love to travel all over the world. Her favorite tourist destination has been the Great Barrier Reef.

CLINICAL FOCUS

- Internal Medicine

PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION

- Board Certification: Internal Medicine, American Board of Internal Medicine (2020)
- Fellowship: University of California Irvine Dept of Internal Medicine (2023) CA
- Residency: Mercy Hospital and Medical Center IL
- Internship: Mercy Hospital and Medical Center IL
- Medical Education: Goa Medical College, Goa University (2002) India