A nationally recognized leader in geriatrics and palliative care, Prof. Periyakoil founded and directs Stanford Medicine's Longevity and Healthy Aging Research Center (https://aging.stanford.edu) and mentors numerous junior faculty members. She founded and directs the Letter Project (http://med.stanford.edu/letter.html).

Dr. Periyakoil has won many research awards including a young investigator award from the American Association of Hospice and Palliative Medicine, a plenary research paper award by the American Geriatrics Society (2014), Geriatrics Research Poster award (2015), and a research award by the American Association of Hospice and Palliative Medicine (2015), and an Innovator award from the American Medical Association (2015). Her recent awards include a research paper award from the ABIM Foundation, the Dr. David H. Solomon Award for Clinical Research in Aging (2022) from UCLA, the Award of Honor for exceptional community service from the Office of the Ambassador of Fiji to the United States (2024), the Richard Payne Outstanding Achievement Award (2025) and the Palliative Care Visionary award from AAHPM (2025).

Dr. Periyakoil served two terms as a standing member of the study section for the National Institute on Aging, the National Institutes of Health. She has chaired special panel meetings for NIH/NIA and NIH/CSR. She continues to serve as an ad hoc member of the NIA and CSR study sections.

Dr. Periyakoil is the Senior Associate Editor of the Journal of Palliative Medicine, Associate Editor of the Journal of the American Geriatrics Society, and Associate Editor of the Journal of Pain and Symptom Management. She is the Chair emerita of the Ethnogeriatrics Committee of the American Geriatrics Society and was the founding Chair of the American Board of Internal Medicine's Hospice & Palliative Medicine SEP Committee. She served as a Board member of the Council of Faculty and Societies and founded and served as chair of the Diversity Committee of the American Association of Medical Colleges. Her work is funded by grants from NIH, HRSA, foundations, the Department of Defense, and the Department of Veterans Affairs.

Within the Stanford CTSA, Dr. Periyakoil serves as the lead for translational research focused on integration across the lifespan.

At the VA Palo Alto Health Care System, Dr. Periyakoil is the emerita Associate Chief of Staff for Organizational Culture and Leadership. In the clinical realm, she co-founded Palliative Care Service and serves as the Director of Out-Patient Palliative Care at the VA Palo Alto Health Care System. Her research focuses on various aspects of longevity and healthy aging,
