

Stanford

Jonathan Vincent Pace

Postdoctoral Research Fellow, Political Science

Bio

BIO

My research centers on the economic, social, legal, and infrastructural regulation of internet conduct. It makes conceptual and empirical connections across digital media studies, interpersonal communication studies, economics, law, and social theory, formulating a humanistic account of digital society with implications for the study, design, and regulation of internet platforms. Find out more about my work at jonathanvincentpace.com.

PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION

- Doctor of Philosophy, University of Pennsylvania (2018)
- Master of Arts, University of Pennsylvania (2015)
- Bachelor of Science, New York University (2013)

Teaching

COURSES

2019-20

- Digital Civil Society: COMM 230A (Aut)
- Digital Civil Society: COMM 230B (Win)
- Digital Civil Society: COMM 230C (Spr)
- Digital Civil Society +1 Series: COMM 230X (Aut, Win, Spr)

2018-19

- Digital Civil Society: COMM 230 (Aut, Win, Spr)