

Stanford

Chris Tagge

Technology Licensing Program Manager, Office of Technology Licensing (OTL)

Bio

BIO

Dr. Chris Tagge is a Technology Licensing Associate at Stanford University Office of Technology Licensing. Prior to joining Stanford, Dr. Tagge was an entrepreneur with 15 years of startup experience leading early stage companies from concept to commercialization and exit. Dr. Tagge received his B.A. degree in chemistry from Occidental College and his Ph.D. in chemistry from UC Berkeley. He holds 18 US patents in an variety of fields, including software, building materials, air filtration, catalysis, analytical instruments, and commodity chemicals.

EDUCATION AND CERTIFICATIONS

- BA, Occidental College , Chemistry (1991)
- PhD, University of California, Berkeley , Chemistry (1995)