

Stanford

James Duncan Gentry

Assistant Professor of Religious Studies

Bio

ACADEMIC APPOINTMENTS

- Assistant Professor, Religious Studies

Teaching

COURSES

2023-24

- Buddhism and Medicine: RELIGST 103 (Aut)
- Ritual and the Senses in Asian Religions: RELIGST 224, RELIGST 324 (Win)
- Translating Religion: RELIGST 210, RELIGST 310 (Win)

2022-23

- Buddha's Brain and the New Science of Mind: RELIGST 14N (Aut)
- Buddhist Philosophy: RELIGST 116 (Win)
- Readings in Tibetan Literature: RELIGST 250, RELIGST 350 (Aut)

2021-22

- Buddhist Philosophy: RELIGST 116 (Aut)
- Buddhist Tantra: RELIGST 153 (Win)
- Readings in Tibetan Literature: RELIGST 350 (Aut)
- Translating Religion: RELIGST 210, RELIGST 310 (Aut)

STANFORD ADVISEES

Doctoral Dissertation Advisor (AC)

Julia Hirsch, Elaine Lai, Oriane Lavole

Publications

PUBLICATIONS

- Changing Bodies Seven Times: Padampa Sangyé's Pacifying Tradition and the Birth of the Mani Pill REVUE D ETUDES TIBETAINES
Gentry, J.
2023: 69-153

- "May it Meet with a Karmically Destined Mahakaru?ika Yogin!"-Ratna Lingpa's Renewal of the Mani-Pill Tradition in Fifteenth Century Tibet(1) REVUE D ETUDES TIBETAINES
Gentry, J.
2023: 94-229
- THE BUDDHIST BODY IN A PILL Notes Towards a Material History of Tantra in Tibet ROUTLEDGE HANDBOOK OF RELIGION AND THE BODY
Gentry, J., Greenberg, Y. K., Pati, G.
2023: 320-332
- Why Did the Cannibal King Fly? Tantric Transformations of an Indian Narrative REVUE D ETUDES TIBETAINES
Gentry, J.
2022: 84-135
- Arguing over the Buddhist Pedigree of Tibetan Medicine: A Case Study of Empirical Observation and Traditional Learning in 16th-and 17th-Century Tibet RELIGIONS
Gentry, J.
2019; 10 (9)