

Eric Stice

Professor of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences (Public Mental Health and Population Sciences)

 Curriculum Vitae available Online

BIO

Dr. Stice served as an assistant professor and associate professor at the University of Texas at Austin and as a Senior Research Scientist at Oregon Research Institute before joining the faculty at Stanford University. His research focuses on identifying risk factors that predict onset of eating disorders, obesity, substance abuse, and depression to advance knowledge regarding etiologic processes, including the use of functional neural imaging. He also designs, evaluates, and disseminates prevention and treatment interventions for eating disorders, obesity, and depression. For instance, he developed a dissonance-based eating disorder prevention program that has been implemented with over 6 million young girls in 140 countries. He has published 335 articles in high-impact outlets, including Science, Psychological Bulletin, Archives of General Biological Psychiatry, American Journal of Clinical Nutrition, and Journal of Neuroscience.

ACADEMIC APPOINTMENTS

- Professor - University Medical Line, Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences
- Member, Maternal & Child Health Research Institute (MCHRI)

HONORS AND AWARDS

- Christina Barz Award, World Psychiatric Association (2017)
- Lori Irving Award for Excellence in Eating Disorder Prevention and Awareness, National Eating Disorder Association (2012)
- Nan Tobler Award for Review of the Prevention Science Literature, Society for Prevention Research (2008)
- Distinguished Scientific Award for Early Career Contributions to Psychopathology, American Psychological Association (2004)

BOARDS, ADVISORY COMMITTEES, PROFESSIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

- Statistics Advisory Board, Cell Press (2019 - present)
- Statistical Review Board, Behaviour Research and Therapy (2016 - present)
- Associate Editor, Journal of Consulting and Clinical Psychology (2016 - present)

PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION

- B.S., University of Oregon , Psychology (1989)
- M.A., Arizona State University , Clinical Psychology (1992)
- Ph.D., Arizona State University , Clinical Psychology (1996)

Research & Scholarship

CLINICAL TRIALS

- Identifying Risk Factors That Predict Onset of Anorexia Nervosa and Bulimia Nervosa, Recruiting

- Peer-Led Dissonance Eating Disorder Prevention: Virtual Delivery, Not Recruiting
- The Body Project: Comparing the Effectiveness of an In-person and Virtually Delivered Intervention., Not Recruiting
