

Stanford

---

Ina Anreiter

Postdoctoral Research Fellow, Neurobiology

Bio

---

BIO

Dr. Anreiter is a behavioural geneticist with interests in gene regulation, epigenetics and biological embedding. She is currently studying the role of mRNA modifications in brain development and behavior.

HONORS AND AWARDS

- Stanford Science Fellow, Stanford University (2020 - present)
- Dimitris N. Chorafas Prize for Excellence in Scientific Research, Dimitris N. Chorafas Foundation (2020)
- John Leyerle-CIFAR Prize for Interdisciplinary Research, University of Toronto (2020)
- Schmidt Science Fellow, Schmidt Science Fellows in Partnership with the Rhodes Trust (2019 - 2020)
- Oral Presentation Award, Canadian Drosophila Research Conference (CANFLY) (2019)
- CIHR Brain Star Award for the Institute of Neurosciences, Mental Health and Addiction, Canadian Institutes of Health Research (2018)
- H.H. Harvey Prize for sustained contributions to the intellectual life of the Department (Runner up), Department of Ecology and Evolutionary Biology, University of Toronto (2018)
- Jonathan Dostrovsky Award in Neuroscience, University of Toronto (2018)
- P.A. Abrams award for sustained research excellence, Department of Ecology and Evolutionary Biology, University of Toronto (2018)
- DeLill Nasser Travel Award for Professional Development in Genetics, Genetics Society of America (2017)
- Ramsey Wright award for sustained contributions to research and the life of the department, Department of Ecology and Evolutionary Biology, University of Toronto (2017)
- General Motors Women in Science and Mathematics Award, University of Toronto (2016 - 2018)
- Ontario Graduate Scholarship, University of Toronto (2016 - 2018)
- The Mary Gertrude l'Anson Scholarship, University of Toronto (2016 - 2018)

BOARDS, ADVISORY COMMITTEES, PROFESSIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

- Steering Committee of the Early Career Leadership Program, Genetics Society of America (2019 - present)

PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION

- Mestrado, Universidade Nova De Lisboa (2012)
- Licenciatura, Universidade Tecnica De Lisboa (2010)
- Doctor of Philosophy, University of Toronto (2019)

STANFORD ADVISORS

- Thomas Clandinin, Postdoctoral Faculty Sponsor