CURRENT ROLE AT STANFORD

In my role as Deputy Chief Information Officer, I provide strategic leadership and management of innovative technology solutions for Stanford Health Care and School of Medicine, as part of Stanford Medicine's Technology and Digital Solutions organization, led by Eric Yablonka. I provide direct oversight for functional areas in Research Technology, Data and Analytics, Educational Technology, Application Development and Research Informatics.

In my role as Associate Dean, Industry Relations and Digital Health, I lead Stanford Medicine's Office of Industry Relations and Digital Health (IRDH) whose mission is to foster relationships that will promote discovery, accelerate the use of technologies that advance human health, and translate today's breakthroughs into tomorrow's standard of care. IRDH serves as the front door for organizations interested in exploring a strategic relationship with Stanford Medicine. The work is part of Stanford Medicine's Strategy Team, led by Priya Singh.
