

Stanford

Glennia Campbell

Director, Industrial Contracts Office, Office of Technology Licensing (OTL)

Bio

BIO

Glennia Campbell is the Director of the Industrial Contracts Office at Stanford. She specializes in negotiating research agreements with industry sponsors. Glennia manages a group of contracting and administrative professionals who are responsible for negotiating and managing contracts with industry sponsors on behalf of Stanford. With over 20 years experience, Glennia is an attorney who has worked as a contract negotiator in both industry and academia, in areas ranging from semiconductors to aerospace to drug development. She received a BA from Barnard College, Columbia University and a JD from Northwestern University. She is admitted to practice law in New York, Texas and California.

CURRENT ROLE AT STANFORD

Director, Industrial Contracts Office

EDUCATION AND CERTIFICATIONS

- BA, Barnard College of Columbia University , English (1983)
- JD, Northwestern University School of Law , Law (1987)

SERVICE, VOLUNTEER, AND COMMUNITY WORK

- Board of Directors (November 17, 2011 - October 17, 2017)
- President & Member of Board of Directors (May 1, 2004 - 2006)