CURRENT ROLE AT STANFORD

I am the Associate Director for Finance and Administration at the Bing Overseas Studies Program. In this role I am responsible for management and coordination of administrative and operations-related functions of the BOSP home office, overseas centers, and various academic partnership and faculty-led education abroad programs. I manage the financial planning and reporting needs for BOSP.; including the preparation and management of the annual consolidated budget, and general counseling and guidance to centers and home office on areas of financial and operational concern.

Previously, I was Finance Manager for the Stem Cell Institute, in charge of the annual budget and sponsored and non-sponsored account portfolios. And before that, I was Grants Manager for the Stanford Cancer Institute working with multiple PIs and handling financial details for the NCI Cancer Center Support Grant (CCSG).
