BIO

Moogdho is a postdoctoral scholar at the Graduate School of Business and at the Woods Institute for the Environment. He is on the academic 2023-2024 job market. He is a development economist, concentrating on political economy, environment and public health. He received his Ph.D. in Economics from the University of Virginia (UVa) in 2021. His research at UVa focused on how dishonest politicians (tax-evaders) affect public goods provision and public health in constituencies the politicians represent. At Stanford, he is working with Erica Plambeck, Stephen Luby, and Grant Miller on environmental and health related issues in Bangladesh.
