

Max K. Clary

MD Student with Scholarly Concentration in Health Services & Policy Research / Global Health, expected graduation Spring 2026

 Curriculum Vitae available Online

Bio

BIO

Max K. Clary is pursuing an MD at Stanford School of Medicine.

Max earned his bachelor's degree in Chemistry at Lewis & Clark College as a Pamplin Honor Society Fellow and his MPH in Global Health at George Washington University's Milken Institute School of Public Health as a Delta Omega Honor Society Fellow. He has worked on several global health projects in India, Pakistan and East Africa. He is the founder of several impact-centered organizations such as Organic Route, a company focused on improving agricultural supply chains and the distribution of healthy foods in rural areas of East Africa.

Max dreams of utilizing his background in business, public health and medicine to create innovative healthcare solutions that are equitable, prevention-focused and individually-tailored.

HONORS AND AWARDS

- Klingenstein Fellow, Klingenstein Medical Student Fellowship Program (2022)
- Delta Omega Inductee, Delta Omega Public Health Honor Society (2022)
- Albert Schweitzer Fellow, Albert Schweitzer Fellowship (2022)
- Phi Beta Kappa Fellow, Phi Beta Kappa Honor Society (2018)
- Pamplin Honor Society Fellow, Lewis & Clark College (2015 - 2018)
- Valedictorian, The Dublin School (2014)