

Stanford

Donald Mitchell

Director, Academic Application, Services, Technology & Digital Solutions

SUPERVISORS

- Michael Halaas

Bio

CURRENT ROLE AT STANFORD

Don Mitchell is the Director of IRT's Application Services team. We are primarily focused on the development and integration of web-based solutions for the School of Medicine, making use of a variety of hardware and software technologies. We partner with other groups within IRT and around the University to build and support our solutions. I manage our development and release processes, set architecture standards, and run our development and QA environments.

EDUCATION AND CERTIFICATIONS

- MBA, Seton Hall University (1997)
- BS, Lafayette College , Electrical Engineering (1991)

PROJECTS

- Stanford Profiles (CAP) - Stanford University (2007 - present)
- FAST|FAC - Stanford University School of Medicine (2005 - 2018)
- Mediaflow - Stanford University School of Medicine (2010 - present)
- SoM Text Paging Service - Stanford University School of Medicine (2007 - present)
- Newswire - Stanford University School of Medicine (2007 - present)

LINKS

- IRT's Software Development Site: <http://med.stanford.edu/irt/application-services.html>
- Information Resources & Technology Site: <http://med.stanford.edu/irt/>

Professional

WORK EXPERIENCE

- Director, Systems Engineering & Architecture - Stanford University School of Medicine (2008 - present)
- Director, Applications - Attensity Corp (February 2003 - August 2005)

PROFESSIONAL AFFILIATIONS AND ACTIVITIES

- Member, SV Forum (formerly SD Forum), <http://svforum.org/> (2005 - present)