

Francesco Bagnardi

Overseas Studies - Florence, Bing Overseas Studies

Bio

BIO

Francesco Bagnardi is postdoctoral research fellow at Scuola Normale Superiore. He holds a PhD in Social and Political Science from the European University Institute in Florence. His work intersects labour sociology, international political economy, and social movements. His research interests include labour movements and employment relations, economic and labour geographies, and global production networks. He currently works on the international political economy and mobilizations of intellectual property rights regimes and health.