

Stanford

Samantha Isabelle Yosuico Dizon

- Undergraduate, Communication
- Stanford Student Employee-Summer, Inclusion, Community and Integrative Learning (ICIL) Operations

Bio

BIO

Hi! My name is Sam (she/her/hers). I'm a sophomore at Stanford University studying Communication and Disability Studies. I have a passion for creativity and advocacy; along with showcasing my artwork online through Instagram, I use my skills to help advocate for Autistic and Disabled rights (@ArtsBySam). I always strive to bring about positive change and I value the beauty of human connection and expression.

I currently work as the Assistant Coordinator for the Stanford University Disability Community (DisCo) Space. I help create graphics needed for newsletters and Instagram, manage our social media, organize events, and help make the DisCo Space as inclusive as possible.

Feel free to reach me at SamDizon@Stanford.edu!