

Stanford

Julie Flores-Alvarado

Project Mgr 1 - General, Industry Relations

Bio

BIO

Julie is a Silicon Valley native with an interest in digital health and innovative technologies. She entered the health care field in 2016 as a medical scribe, working over the years in emergency medicine, oncology/hematology, and outpatient radiology. Julie completed a graduate internship within the Project Management Office at Stanford Health Care Tri-Valley where she gained experience collaborating with executive and senior leadership on various strategic and operational initiatives. Currently, she is serving as a Project Manager as a part of the Industry Relations team, supporting internal operations and processes.

CURRENT ROLE AT STANFORD

Project Manager 1 - General, Industry Relations