

Stanford

Elysia Soria

Postdoctoral Scholar, Anesthesiology, Perioperative and Pain Medicine

Bio

PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION

- Doctor of Psychology, Roosevelt University (2022)
- Master of Arts, Roosevelt University (2019)
- Bachelor of Science, Illinois State University (2013)

STANFORD ADVISORS

- Rashmi Bhandari, Postdoctoral Faculty Sponsor

Research & Scholarship

RESEARCH INTERESTS

- Diversity and Identity
- Psychology
- Race and Ethnicity

Publications

PRESENTATIONS

- Being intentional when addressing diversity, equity, and inclusion in pediatric chronic pain. - Society of Pediatric Psychology Annual Conference (April 2022)
- Provider perceptions of diversity, equity, and inclusion within an academic medical center. - Society of Pediatric Psychology Annual Conference (4/1/2021)
- It's all around us: Considering structures in racial and health equity. - Canton City Public Health Department (October 2021)
- Non-pharmacological interventions for pediatric pain. - Department of Psychiatry & Behavioral Neuroscience, University of Chicago (5/1/2021)
- Utilizing motivational interviewing to facilitate regimen adherence in adolescents with diabetes mellitus. - Endocrinology Grand Rounds, University of Chicago. (February 2021)
- Positive parenting principles and supporting non-traditional modalities of learning. - University of Chicago. (December 2020)
- Finding belongingness in the laboratory: Evaluation of a pre college experience for science students. - American Psychological Association Annual Conference (August 2020)
- Bridging the gap: Utilizing inclusive efforts and cultural wealth as a means to enhance belonging in undergraduate science students. - Association for Psychological Science Annual Convention (May 2020)