

Stanford

Laura Joyce Davis

Lecturer (Fixed Term)

Writing and Rhetoric Studies

Bio

BIO

Prior to joining the Stanford Storytelling Project, Laura was one of Podcast Magazine's Top 22 Influencers in Podcasting in 2022, and created 200 episodes of the narrative podcast Shelter in Place, which won the International Women's Podcast Awards category for "Changing the World One Moment at a Time." Laura also co-founded a PR News Social Impact Award-winning podcast training intensive with her writer husband Nate, and currently teaches Narrative Podcast Labs, an online course. Before creating Shelter in Place, Laura was a WNYC podcast accelerator finalist, a Fulbright scholar, and an award-winning fiction writer.

ACADEMIC APPOINTMENTS

- Lecturer, Writing and Rhetoric Studies

HONORS AND AWARDS

- Winner of the "Changing the World One Moment at a Time" Award, International Women's Podcast Awards (2021)

Teaching

COURSES

2022-23

- Introduction to Podcast Storytelling: ORALCOMM 127 (Aut)
- Oral Documentary Workshop: ORALCOMM 126 (Aut)
- Sound Stories: ORALCOMM 129 (Win)
- Stories to Save Our Planet: ORALCOMM 128 (Spr)