

Isabelle Krakowski

Affiliate, Dermatology

Bio

BIO

Isabelle Krakowski, MD is a Research Affiliate at the Center for Digital Health and Department of Dermatology at Stanford University working with the Linos Lab (Professor Eleni Linos).

She is a PhD candidate at Karolinska Institutet, where she also obtained her medical degree. She is a fourth-year resident in dermatology at the Karolinska University Hospital.

Her current research is focusing on cutaneous melanoma and artificial intelligence.