

Mathias Gomez

Student Services Specialist, Management Science and Engineering

Bio

CURRENT ROLE AT STANFORD

Mathias Gomez is a Student Services Specialist for Management Science and Engineering (MS&E) and provides administrative and operational support to faculty, staff, and students on topics regarding admission, student life, and academic services.

EDUCATION AND CERTIFICATIONS

- B.A., UC Irvine , Psychology and Social Behavior
- A.A., Cuyamaca College , Psychology
- A.S., Cuyamaca College , Science and Mathematics
- A.A., Cuyamaca College , Social and Behavioral Sciences
- Certificate, UC San Diego, Extension , Career Advising
- Certificate, UC San Diego, Extension , College Counseling

PERSONAL INTERESTS

When Mathias is not serving students, staff, and faculty at Stanford, he enjoys weightlifting after work, usually on campus. He's been weightlifting since high school and enjoys the physical and mental challenges of the sport. Mathias also loves the great outdoors, and has been an avid hiker since his time in the Boy Scouts, having hiked several mountains, valleys, and beaches across San Diego, he aims to explore more of the natural beauty the Bay Area has to offer. Alongside his active lifestyle is a strong interest in higher education. He is currently studying College Counseling and Career Advising at UC San Diego Extension. When he's not living an active lifestyle or working on his educational career, he enjoys being with his family.